

From the Desk of Douglas Redstone

Website Visitor, Account

Re: Doug's Image Summary r

Dear Website Visitor,

Thank you for receiving this obligated or concerned "Image Summary v1" letter and concern example March 2011. While there is potential for unusual parts to effected correspondence, please include this important letter at this time (not usually) with my account profile for your accurate understanding of our relationship and my consumer technology business Second Nature Technology (SNT). Your reference to this letter and example is immediately and eventually a better responsible atmosphere for our relationship and my reliability.

Again, while media and life is saturated with story and stereotype, this letter is a responsible accurate summary about Doug and business(es), better than pre-description or anticipating the need for describing. Please include this letter's understanding while there is current or potential for adverse early comment about Doug that seems strong and used, but misleading and opposite to this letter. Detail can be further described by request to Doug. Please be aware of a multi-red-flag attributes campaigned or participated contributing to a defined business crisis and personal effects. Therefore, when you can, please include the following specific example and my "adhered" resume style website in your account, mention, understanding, and considerations of Doug and owned SNT while Doug is in current and pending need of specific business and personal help described and available separately (2):

(INCL) SEE edougAboutSNT.com and available resume-style download for Doug Redstone.

Comment: While occurring effects, please TEST the download and give Doug feedback about and unusual or short experienced technical issues. This is not part of business development and does not include use of issues or events for same.

Example: Early comment, pre-description, campaign or advised participation of Doug's writing or speaking as "unclear" or in unusual high quantity. This early comment or pre-description sometimes includes a rippling effect that is often unintentionally toxic or targeting Doug or achieving the same among other "Current Issues and Concerns" which are pending resolve during defined business crisis and personal effects –a better responsible description and sometimes understandably confusing.

Reply version 1: First, other conclusions from the example are clearly predictable and sometimes increasing vulnerability and concerns but also clearly not a responsible out-of-context responsible result or infused topic, expectation, or reaction. Additionally, Doug is currently experiencing parts of "id theft" which also seem to be a valued contemporary topic and are, therefore, popular and valued from any perspective or interpretation or result. Today, experienced and occurring id theft concerns include an accurate understanding with applied skill and expense from Doug.

Comment: For contact, please keep trying if you cannot get through to me.

Thank you,

Doug Redstone, SNT, 1-888-744-9204

(also Doug is Power or Attorney for personal and business priorities)